Sheriff Doerfler To Be Candidate For Treasure

Sheriff Roy C. Doerfler, of Will county, whose term will expire next year, is announcing his candidacy for county treasurer on the Republican ticket in the April primaries.

FBI-trained Doerfler cannot succeed himself in the sheriff's office, according to law.

Roy C. Doerfler

He has served in the sheriff's office since 1941, when he was appointed to the staff under the late Sheriff James J. O'Neill.

Since that time he has served as criminal investigator for seven years and also held the rank of lieutenant under the late Sheriff Ernest E. Overbey.

Sheriff Overbey had served only 17 months of his four-year term when he died. The county board of supervisors unanimously appointed Doerfler sheriff for seven months until a special election was held in 1952.

According to law, he was permitted to seek re-election in 1954

William Fair 65, Dies at Mokena

Funeral services for William Fair, 65, of Mokena, were held from the Klemm funeral home, Manhattan, to the Evangelical United Brethren church there, Tuesday. The Rev. Samuel Seizert officiated. Burial was in Manhattan cemetery.

Mr. Fair died in his home at Mokena Saturday, Dec. 28, apparently of a heart ailment.

For several years he had farmed near Manhattan before moving 16 years ago to a farm near Mokena, which he operated until 1955. He then retired and moved into Mokena.

He is survived by his widow, Mae, three daughters, Miss Elizabeth, of Mokena; Mrs. Bernard (Evelyn) Veld, of Lake Village, Ind.; and Mrs. Clifford (Mildred) Blink, of South Holland.

Also, six sisters, Mrs. J. B. Wilson, of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Alice Shaumate, of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. Laura Gaunce, of Paris, Ky.; Mrs. Molly Donaldson, of Sharpsburg, Ky.; Mrs. Neut Crump, of Owensville, Ky.; and Mrs. Frank Robbins, of Pawnee; one brother, Robert, of Sharpsburg, Ky., and five grandchildren.

Manhattan Man, Joliet Woman Wed By Mokena Judge

John Heiden, of Manhattan, and Ruth Fitzgerald, of Joliet, were married by Judge August Werner, Mokena, on Saturday, Dec. 28.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Bertel Anderson, of Joliet.

Success is hard work that comes in the guise of good luck.

Hutchison Seeks Re-election as Probate Judge

Probate Judge Stewart C. Hutchison is a candidate for re-election.

Elected for the first time in 1954 his term expires next November. This week he announced that he would seek nomination in the Republican primary in April.

Political observers do not expect that Hutchison will have opposition in the primary, pointing out that he has made a good record as probate judge and on the strength of this merits re-election.

Lawyers find Judge Hutchison available daily and all court matters are given prompt attention, it was pointed out. In announcing his candidacy Judge Hutchison made the following statement:

"I am humbly proud to have served as probate judge of Will county since December, 1954. During that time I have tried to give daily service to our county.

"And I pledge to the citizens that, given the opportunity I will continue to administer the duties of the office fairly and impartially in a manner that will best provide and maintain justice. I will continue to keep the work of the office current and up to date.

"The rapid expansion in population of our county demands service, training and experience."

Judge Hutchison is running on his record. He is a native of Joliet, the son of Elizabeth P. and the late Wilson A. Hutchison. He has been a practicing attorney since 1934 and during World War II served in the U.S. navy in the Pacific theater.

Farmers to Discuss Soils and Crops at Manhattan Meeting

Will county landlords and tenants will have an opportunity on Jan. 9 to see and hear the most recent information on soils and crops. The meeting will be at Manhattan Sportsman hall from 10 until 3 o'clock. Lunch will be available.

Such topics as weed control in soybeans and corn, Canada thistle control, giant foxtail control, liquid fertilizers, why herbicides fail, drift hazards of 2, 4-D, band spraying, new crop varieties, productive potential of Will county soils, alfalfa aphid, 1958 soil bank bidding procedures, and minimum tillage will be discussed.

Fined for Traffic Lapses at Mokena

Two Mokena men were fined for traffic violations in the Mokena village hall on Dec. 26.

Berle Needham was fined $3 and $2 costs for blocking traffic on Tuesday night, Dec. 23.

James Raffauf, was fined for speeding between 6 and 7 p.m. Dec. 24. He was traveling 40 miles an hour on Front st. He paid a fine of $10 and $3 costs.

Open House At Tinley Savings and Loan Jan. 2

By ANNE RODGER

Having received approval of its application for federal insurance, which protects and guarantees payment of all accounts up to $10,000, the Tinley Park Savings and Loan officially opened last Monday.

Applications for future deposits have been issued by the institution for the past several months, but official operations have been delayed until the federal insurance was granted.

To mark the official opening, Open House will be held in the offices of the Savings and Loan, at 17325 Oak Park ave., Thursday, Jan. 2, until Feb. 1, 1958.

Those who have not peeked in at the new headquarters, will be pleasantly surprised. Upon entering the modern red brick building, one encounters a gold plexiglass weather-baffle. Walls are pale green and ceiling white.

Furniture is in warm tones of natural walnut, and upholstery is persimmon, flecked with gold. White draperies have a design that picks up the gold and persimmon tones. All lighting is fluorescent.

"Perhaps it is because so many depositors today are women, that financial institutions being built today have a pleasant decor", said Kenneth H. Katschke, President and chairman of the board of directors. "We hope that the community will like our quarters", he added.

Meet the People

Katschke, a south suburbanite, is a home builder over a wide area of the suburbs and Chicago.

The Manager, Raymond Fritch, has had long experience in a savings and loan office in Chicago, and likely will take up residence in Tinley Park.

Directors of the Tinley Park Savings and Loan Association, who will be on hand at the formal opening on Jan. 2, include: John Fahrenholz, who was born in Tinley Park; Har-

A huge and roaring bonfire is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at Mokena.

The Mokena Lions club, which is in charge of arrangements, is advancing Twelfth Night 24 hours for the occasion. The committee points out that Sunday is a better day for the affair because no one is working and the collection of trees can be done in daylight hours.

The bonfire will be made of Christmas trees.

In the Christian church Twelfth Night—the twelfth day after Christmas, falls on Jan. 6, and marks the Feast of the Epiphany commemorating the gifts of the Magi to the Christ Child.

At one time Christmas was observed on this day and still is in the Eastern church. In the western world Twelfth Night has become the day on which Christmas decorations are taken down.

Taking down a Christmas tree is a comparatively simple job. The difficult part of the operation is disposing of the tree.

A Community Service

Too frequently one reads of youngsters being burned in setting these discarded trees afire. The Mokena Lions would avert such a tragedy and at the same time perform a service to householders by arranging for a safe disposal of the trees.

The Lions will man trucks Sunday afternoon and tour the community. Cub scouts will make the contact with the householder, carrying the trees from the house to the truck.

If the ground is hard enough the trees will be hauled to Community park where they will be made into a huge pile and set on fire. If the ground is too soft, the fire will be made at the site used by the village for burning refuse—at Midland and Bryant.

The plan has been used with great success in many communities, according to Lions president, Fred Lehmann. The Cub scouts not only get to enjoy a king-size bonfire but they usually earn some money too, as most householders are glad to make a small donation to get rid of their old Christmas trees.

Collect Trees at 3:00

If the idea takes hold at Mokena, Mr. Lehmann pointed out, additional activities can be added from time to time, such as community singing, refreshments, etc. And incidentally the club will reward the scouts for their aid this year by serving them with something to eat.

The collection of trees is to begin about 3 o'clock. The bonfire will be touched off about 4:30. Householders are asked to cooperate by having trees and donations ready for the collectors.

Zoning Office Issues Permits For Five Homes

Building permits issued by the Will County zoning office during the past two weeks included five for new residences in the area, as follows:

To Don L. Dise, Inc., Aurora, for a five-room frame home, south side of Laura Lane, between Cedar and Elm streets, New Lenox, $12,000.

The Welsch Lumber and Supply Co., Mokena, for a five-room frame house, west side of Hellgate road, south of Francis road, Frankfort, $10,000.

Henry Roelfsema, Oak Lawn, five-room brick veneer home, south side of 194th st., between Wolf rd., and 114th ave, Frankfort, $17,600.

Walter Ritt, Frankfort, five-room frame home, south side of Lincoln Highway, west of 95th ave., Frankfort, $10,000.

A. S. Duncan, Mokena, six-room frame home and a 1½ car garage, west side of Scott, between LaPorte road and Boyer Court, Mokena, $10,000.

Will Argue Fare Increase Case on Jan. 15 Before ICC

(CNS) Oral arguments by the Ridge Civic council against the Rock Island railroad fare increase proposals have been scheduled for Jan. 15 before the Illinois Commerce Commission in Chicago.

Arguments against the 20 per cent fare hike requested by the railroad will open at 10 am. in 19th floor hearing rooms at the State Building, 160 N. LaSalle.

Three Rock Island commuters, each representing a civic organization, criticized the railroad's suburban service at the last hearing December 4.

All charged service on the line has deteriorated since the railroad obtained a nine to 20 per cent fare hike in March, 1956.

But the Rock Island contends it is losing 1.5 million dollars a year on its commuter runs between Chicago and Joliet.

ALL TIME HIGH!

This country has set all manner of records in recent times. A new one has just been announced by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Harrington. Last year the American people paid an all-time high of $80,171,971.

"No matter how much a man can make, the cost of living is fixed at... how much a man can make!"

Community Services Subject of Regional Association Meeting

The Regional Association of South Cook and Will counties Municipalities will hold its next meeting in Blue Island on Jan. 17. The program, "Community Services" will include cooperative police networks, health facilities, water facilities, joint trash and garbage service and incineration.

The last meeting of the Association, held in Midlothian, featured a transportation panel. A third major airport to be located in this area and extension of helicopter passenger commuter service to the suburban area were forecast by C. E. Liske, traffic and sales manager of Chicago Helicopter Airways.

"The often predicted helicopter age is no longer live or ten years away, but has arrived," he said.

Chicago Helicopter Airways, he reported, carried 50,000 passengers this year, and expects to carry 110,000 in 1958. The southwest area with its anticipated population influx will certainly need a helicopter site as the area reaches its saturation point, he stated.

ry Dean, local postmaster, who has been a resident here for 26 years; John Curlee, who is in the cartage business and who has lived here for six years; John Bellante, in the insurance and real estate business for 13 years, and a resident for 20 years; Walter Fierke, resident for 17 years, and superintendent of Tinley public schools; Charles Smith, resident for 10 years, and in the hardware business; Chester Zarecki, resident for one year, and representing a long-established dairy; and William Mancke, proprietor of a bowling establishment, and a resident of Tinley Park for 27 years.

Local Director

"When Charles Smith, president of the Tinley Park Associates, began to discuss with me the possibility of establishing a savings and loan association in Tinley Park, I could see the mood, but I felt that it would be necessary to place the responsibilities of directorship in the hands of those who had an intimate knowledge of the community. Only because we were able to obtain such, were we able to go ahead with confidence," stated Katschke.

The Tinley Park Savings and Loan is the only one within a radius of 16 miles.

The population of the village has more than doubled since the 1950 census. It has been estimated that this will rise to 25,000 by 1980.

Director Fahrenholz has stated: "Living here is just as pleasant as it always has been, only now there are a lot more conveniences. Now people who like to use a savings and loan won't have to go elsewhere."

Tinley Park is an excellent example of industrial and residential expansion going hand in hand. One builder is putting up 1,200 homes in the area, another 460. The Tinley Park Associates is working to attract industry so that the community will have a broader tax base.

The Association president states: "Altho studies and inspections indicated that Tinley Park can support our savings and loan association, our greatest interest is toward the future, and we shall do our utmost to help Tinley Park to continue to grow."

00 in federal taxes—more than the total internal revenue collected from 1789 thru 1938, and some $5 billion above the 1956 figure. All major classes of taxes contributed to the increase, the largest gains occurring in individual income and employment tax collections.

PTA News

Tinley Park PTA

The January meeting of the Tinley Park Parent-Teacher association will be held Friday, Jan. 10, instead of Jan. 3, because of the school being closed for Christmas vacation.

The program will include presentation of colors by Cub Scout pack 272. The Rev. Dallas Mucci, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene will give the invocation.

A panel, consisting of Elmer H. Knudsen, president of the village of Tinley Park H. W. Trevathen, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; and Mrs. Leland H. Rayson, a parent, will discuss, "What Are Good School-Community Relations?" Walter F. Fierke, school superintendent, will act as moderator.

A discussion on how local agencies can work together to benefit children is the nucleus of the discussion.

Mrs. Kenneth Crandall, wife of the Rev. Crandall, of the Methodist church, will play several selections on the harp. The fifth grade mothers will serve refreshments.

Doctor School PTA

The Doctor school Parent-Teacher Association held a Christmas meeting in December. The program as planned by Mrs. Herman Gee and Mrs. Joseph Bauer, included a recording of "The Littlest Angel" and other Christmas carols.

Games were played and gifts exchanged.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jerre Vanek and Mrs. Frank Greenhoe.

The room mothers of all the grade planned and conducted Christmas parties for the children.

FARM NEWS

For Cook County by W. F. Whiteside

assistant farm adviser

An all day agronomy meeting will be held at the Farm Bureau building in Tinley Park, on Wednesday, Jan. 8, beginning at 10 a.m.

On the program will be Sam Alrich, agronomy department, University of Illinois, who will discuss soil fertility and a recommended fertilizer program for this county, as shown by the soil test.

W. O. Scott, also from the university, will discuss crop varieties adapted to this county and new chemicals used in weed control for corn, soybeans, oats and other field crops.

On the program also will be H. B. Petty, entomology department, natural history survey, who will discuss the outlook of insect situation for 1958 and the recommended controls.

A free lunch will be furnished by the farm bureau. Everyone is invited to attend the meeting, but reservations are required for lunch. If you plan to attend the meeting, call the farm bureau office, Tinley Park, KE 2-4374 for reservations.

Registration for the 1958 University of Illinois winter short course in agriculture and home economics starts Monday, Feb. 3. It ends March 15.

The short course is designed for farm young people who cannot regularly attend college. It brings them up to date on new developments in agriculture and in the modern farm home. Students in the short course can also enjoy the cultural, social and athletic events on campus and in the community.

Anyone 18 years of age or older may attend. Farm background or experience is helpful, but not required. Housing and meals will be available in university residence halls for both men and women.

Among the agricultural courses to be offered are farm management, farm machinery, soil management and beef cattle feeding and management.

This is the first year in which home economics courses have been offered. They include furnishing the home, buying and preparing foods and dating, engagement and marriage.

Farmers in Cook county will have an opportunity to submit "bids", stating the amount of annual per-acre rental payments they are willing to accept for putting all eligible cropland on their farms in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil bank. Such bids, of course, could be subject to acceptance by the U. S. department of agriculture on the basis of acceptable offers, the chairman explained. The "bid" program will be available only until Jan. 31, altho the signup under the regular conservation reserve program, which is still in effect, runs until April 15, 1958.

The bid program works this way: Farmers will make offers, on a dollars-and-cents, basis, of the rate of annual payment per acre they would be willing to accept to put their eligible cropland in the conservation reserve. The "bid" must cover all eligible cropland on the farm and must be for a 5 to 10 year period. The decision whether to accept a "bid" will be made by the U.S. department of agriculture thru the county ASC committee. The government reserves the right to reject any or all "bids." Purpose of the program is to determine the "bid" procedure will help more farmers to shift cropland from production to conser-

Rebecca Renick, of Manhattan, received a master of science degree in chemistry.

Volunteer Work At Oak Forest Has New Head

Dan Ryan, president of the Cook county board of commissioners, today announced the appointment of Mrs. Dorothy T. Hunter as director of Volunteer Services at Oak Forest hospital. Oak Forest is the county hospital devoted to the chronically ill at 159th and Cicero, Oak Forest.

Mrs. Hunter's administrative background includes five years with an agency having over a $5 million fund last year to 5,000 volunteers who agencies operate 53 participating agencies of the total of 146 agencies within the community council.

Now she is a proud young grandmother, but as a Junior Leaguer in Portland, Maine, she first did volunteer service at the Children's hospital. Later she was a volunteer at the Westchester county hospital in New York where she gained additional experience in occupational therapy.

A graduate of Wheelock college, Boston, she was educated to become a primary grades teacher.

Mrs. Hunter assumes the office of the late Anne Lindsay who developed the volunteer program at Oak Forest hospital within the past three years to include 298 ladies and gentlemen, who contributed 16,560 hours of service within the past year.

The volunteer program at Oak Forest hospital, under the supervision of Carl K. Schmidt, Jr., superintendent of Oak Forest hospital, developed from Friendly Visitor activity to a supervised program which permits volunteers to assist the hospital's clinical psychologist, graduate social workers, and registered therapists.

Volunteer duty in the wards includes letter writing, operating a book mobile or shopping cart, which carries magazines and sundry items from the County Store to the bedside.

Other volunteers assist the dietitian as dining room hostesses, encouraging lazy appetites, hosting parties and helping the patients play games, and organizing musical get-togethers.

The nation's first atomic-powered merchant ship is expected to be completed in 1960. She will carry the designation NS, for ship, instead of the traditional SS. She will be named the Savannah, after the first ship to cross the Atlantic under steam power.

Don't forget the deadline Jan. 31. Visit the ASC office in the Farm Bureau building for further details.

MR. AND MRS. MARVIN KOLLMANN

Arlene Starz and Marvin Kollmann Recite Vows In Blue Island Church

The wedding of Arlene Storz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Storz of Blue Island and Marvin Kollmann, son of William Kollmann of Tinley Park, was solemnized in the Salem Lutheran church in Blue Island Saturday, Nov. 30. The pastor of the church, the Rev. John Streck officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Stephen Brtis, presided at the organ and accompanied Paul Graunke when he sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess style gown of chantilly lace and tulle over white satin. The skirt featured inserts of lace and sequins and ended in a chapel length train. The gown was styled with a Sabrina neckline with long tapered lace sleeves also studded with sequins and pearls. Her fingertip veil fell from a lace crown. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a bouquet of orchids and stephanotis.

Caryl Storz served her sister as maid of honor, and Mrs. Velora Kollmann, sister in law of the groom, Mary Ann Deekelman, cousin of the bride and Bernice Rehner, a friend, were bridesmaids. Each wore gowns of red velvet, ballerina length, trimmed in red satin with matching head pieces. They carried red velvet muffs with white streamers and white carnations.

Randall Kollman, nephew of the groom was ring bearer.

Walter Kollmann served his brother as best man and ushers were Edward Kollmann and Virgil Bode. All men of the bridal party wore midnight blue tuxedos.

The mother of the bride wore a rose beige lace gown with matching accessories and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

The wedding dinner was served at 6 o'clock to 85 guests in Sanger hall. The reception was held in the same place at 8:30 when a large number of friends and relatives gathered to wish the couple success. A buffet luncheon was served. Dancing was enjoyed to the music of the MARK GOLDEN WEDDING—Fifty descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Simon DeValck, 6513 Oak Forest ave., Tinley Park, gathered at a family dinner on New Year's day to help them celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. The dinner was held in the McKinley school, 170th and Cottage Grove ave., South Holland, followed by an Open House. Attending the happy occasion were all eight of their children, 28 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Five of their children who live in Tinley Park, are sons, Conell, Melvin, Clarence, John, and Mrs. Norman Bettenhausen. Other children are Mrs. Herman Vander Wall, of Oak Lawn; Henry of South Holland; and Arthur, of Roseland. Mr. and Mrs. DeValck were married in Norman, Okla., in 1908. They have lived in Tinley Park for the past 20 years and previously lived on a farm in Mokena for ten years.

Joan Barry and Thomas Cepek Wed In St. George Church at Tinley

Joan Barry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barry of Tinley Park and Thomas Cepek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cepek of Chicago were united in marriage, Saturday, Dec. 28 at a double ring ceremony in St. George Catholic church in Tinley Park. The Rev. Thomas O'Connell officiated.

Appropriate music was played by organist Ann Feldner preceding the ceremony and also accompanied Arlene Winkle as she sang "On This Day," "Ave Maria" and "O! Lord I am not Worthy." The church was beautiful with poinsettia plants at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white tulle and lace gown with chapel length veil and train. She carried a prayer book with a spray of white lilies. A tiny pearl tiara completed her ensemble.

The maid of honor was Grace Cepek, who was gowned in Emerald green velvet with white fur muff and hat.

The Misses Kay and Dolores Barry served as bridesmaids. They wore gowns of red velvet with white fur muffs and hats. All the bride's attendants carried red poinsettias.

Attending the groom was Frank Haranza, Don Straza and William Petan.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Barry chose a gown of blue chantilly lace with matching accessories. The groom's mother was gowned in beige lace with brown accessories.

Guests of honor were the grandparents, Mrs. M. Barry and Mr. D. McGowan.

A reception for 200 guests was held at Modena hall in Chicago, where a family style dinner was served. A three tier wedding cake graced the bridal table.

Following a motor trip, the young couple will make their home in Chicago, where the bride is employed with Chicago Junction Railway as a secretary. The groom's present employment is with Vern's barber shop in Tinley Park.

Kiplinger Says
'Farm Bloc'
Is On Way Out

"The farm bloc," long a potent force in American politics, will be an "odddity of the past, referred to only in history books" 25 years from now, according to Austin Kiplinger, executive editor of the Kiplinger Washington Letter.

"There will be no such thing as the 'farm states' in American politics by 1982," the Washington editor told an audience of southern businessmen at Huntsville, Alabama. "The agricultural states will become increasingly industrialized. This process has already begun. Last year, for example, farm families received one-third, or 6.7 billion dollars of their incomes from work done away from the farm. By 1982, we predict that fully half the income of farm families will come from non-farm work, from employment in light industry, service trades, and other jobs.

"Who will produce the food? The mechanization of farms has already enabled us to produce more with fewer farm workers. This process will continue. In 25 years, American farms will produce one-third more food and fiber with 40 per cent fewer farm workers," the editor told his audience.

"The political effect of this economic change will be that the farm bloc will begin to share the viewpoint of the industrial states. We will see fewer and fewer of those classic legislative and political struggles between agricultural and industrial interests," the Washington editor said.

85 New Homes
Constructed In
Tinley In 1957

For the first 11 months of 1957 there were 85 building permits issued in Tinley Park, for a total valuation of $1,006,000. Only two permits were issued in the month of November for homes. Oak Lawn for the third straight month is leading the home building parade among 117 suburban towns in the six county metropolitan area with a total of 647 home building permits issued, including 39 in Nov. Tabulation of Bell Savings and Loan association building reports shows Harvey has advanced to fourth among south Cook county municipalities with a total of 264.

Locally, this marked the only change among the top five, with Chicago Heights running second, Dolton third, and Markham now fifth.

Park Forest registered the biggest gain, reporting 159 permits issued in November for an 11-month total of 234. In south county standings, Park Forest soared from 16 to 8th place.

Steger, filing its first report of the year, has issued 41 permits, higher than the individual totals of East Hazel Crest, Blue Island, Olympia Fields, Crete, and Midlothian.

A man went out one day to seek his enemies, and he found no friends. A man went out one day to seek his friends, and he found no enemies.

THE OLD TIMER
No family should have less than three children, so there will be two to support the genius!

THE FOXES OF ORLAND were thinned somewhat last week when Howard Bush, whose farm is at 131st and the Will-Cook road trapped nine. Had the foragers tried for poultry or pheasants they might still be barking o' nights instead of winding up with their pelts on boards. The fox likes mice and knows they frequent barns and hay piles, so when Mr. Bush tossed a couple of bales of hay out back of the barn and concealed a couple of traps therein, it was the undoing of those foxes who came looking for mice. Will county pays a bounty on foxes but not Cook.

Some say that a good jolt can help restore a memory. It's a moot point for psychologists, but not for technologists. Laboratory tests show that jolting oil based polyethylene with high energy electrons improves its "plastic memory." This means that if the plastic is distorted below a certain temperature, it will return to its original shape when heated above that temperature. Moreover, electron-jolting prevents polyethylene from melting. It will hold its shape indefinitely even in temperatures as high as 400 degrees Fahrenheit, instead of drooping into a "blob" at 180 degrees.

Orland Park: Fieldbrook 9-0211

WOMAN'S CLUB NEWS

The Cancer dressing group which the Orland Park Women's club sponsor, will meet Wednesday, Jan. 8 at 10 a.m. in Wesley hall. Note, change in date from the first Wednesdays to the second Wednesdays hereafter.

Bring a sandwich and hostess committee will serve coffee and dessert.

Third district IFWC will have a reception and tea for Mrs. Charles Malmgren, past president of the district Thursday, Jan. 9 at Ridge Park Field house on Longwood drive, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Malmgren is a tentative candidate for the state presidency. Mrs. Lucius Patton, state publicity chairman is in charge of the tea. Orland club members desiring to attend should contact the president, Mrs. Karl Ekberg.

The brothers and sisters and their families of Mrs. Ferdinand Schrank had a surprise house warming for Mr. and Mrs. Schrank Saturday evening, Dec. 21 and presented them with a set of dishes. The party was a double feature, as they also honored the birthday of Mrs. Schrank.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cooper and children are spending the Christmas holidays in St. Petersburg, Fla. They left Dec. 18. His parents are staying in their farm home during their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gravelle of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Horn and children were Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horn. Mrs. Gravelle is a sister to Mrs. Robert Horn.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yunker, Walter, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Gray and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Yunker and children of Mokena, were dinner guests of their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Oakes of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gee Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Nels Benson and son, Mrs. David Agate and Mr. Ralph Agate were dinner guests of Mrs. Karl Ekberg Christmas eve.

Miss Rose Enders enjoyed dinner at the home of her niece Mrs. Robert Vik in Midlothian. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hulett, parents of Mrs. Vik and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vik, parents of Robert, were also guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Glahn of Hinsdale were dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Townsend.

Mrs. Harry Heiting entertained her family at dinner. They were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ahlreper and daughter Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Heiting and children of Homewood and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murphy of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. George Edward Gee entertained at dinner, their parents Mr. and Mrs. George Gee, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Golden Lang, their sisters and families and brother Edmond Lang, also Mrs. Karl Ekberg and Ivar Benson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lang and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Powell, Jr., and daughter were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wheeler.

Twenty three members and guests of the WSCS Esther Circle gathered at the home of Mrs. Karl Ekberg, Dec. 26 for their annual potluck lunch and Christmas party. Mrs. George Gee Jr., Mrs. Walter Yunker and Mrs. Sherman Knox assisted. Following the luncheon, a program of Christmas readings and singing of Christmas carols were enjoyed and games were played. Prizes were awarded. A gift exchange followed.

The adult bible class of the Orland Park Methodist church will meet in the home of Howard Cooper, Wednesday, Jan. 8 at 8 p.m.

Laguna Woods

Mrs. Robert Anderson
Fieldbrook 9-2857

The Woods resounded with youthful voices Dec. 19 as the pre-teen carolers under the direction of Mrs. Al Karre joyously sang the old favorite Christmas carols. Laguna carolers were joined by John Snyder, Tom Slager and Patricia Yager of 76th ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Eckel entertained his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eckel on Christmas day and a younger brother who was home for the holidays from the University of Illinois. On Christmas Eve the Eckel family entertained Mrs. Eckel's family.

The Robert Anderson's had a late buffet supper Christmas Eve and gifts were opened around the Christmas tree. Guests were Mr. Anderson's grandmother, Mrs. Rueter of Custer Park, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dumm, Mrs. Mammie Anderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Anderson. Christmas Day the families had dinner in the Chicago home of Mrs. Mammie Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Donohue entertained his sister and family from Michigan on Christmas Eve. Most of the families in the Woods spent Christmas with their families either in Laguna or at the home of one of the couples parents. In the latter part of the morning many residents scurried back and forth between homes wishing them a joyous day.

Miss Joan Eckel is having a slumber party Jan. 2 in her home on 80th ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Eckel and family joined their relatives in a family reunion, Dec. 29 at the farm home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Reid in Morocco, Ind.

Charles Harris was a guest Dec. 27 of the Community Center at its Christmas party for summer campers. The party began with a hay ride and happy shouts of hello as the campers and counselors met.

A few of the parties about the Woods during the holidays were: Mrs. Anderson's impromptu coffee, for Mrs. Yoman of Palos Highlands; Mrs. Niebrugge's luncheon; the Al Karre pre-Christmas party and the Art Arnolds holiday cheer party after which guests visited in other homes thru-out the Woods.

Anyone who has not registered to vote since moving out to Laguna Woods or to this community may do so now at the Ralph Agate farm at 139th and 180th ave. Mr. Agate is the town clerk and will register voters in his home instead of the school as in the past years. You have until Jan. 21 to register. Please phone Mr. Agate for an appointment so that he will be there when you arrive. If you are unfamiliar with this area, Mr. Anderson will take you over to the Agate farm.

To those of you who are spending their first Christmas in the Woods, now is the time to meet the neighbors. Many of you work during the day and we haven't had a chance to get acquainted and like many of your neighbors, the "Latch-string" is out at the Anderson's, "Come on over!"

GREEN GARDEN

Mrs. Katharine Heisner

Governor Proclaims Jan. 10 As Safety Seminar Day In Illinois

Safety Seminar Day in Illinois has been set for Jan. 10 by proclamation of Gov. William G. Stratton, Mayor Richard J. Daley, of Chicago, and other mayors in the state.

The day will mark the first Illinois Editor and Publisher Highway Traffic safety seminar for which newspaper editors and publishers, industrial publication editors and law enforcement officials will gather in Peoria, Jan. 9-10-11, 1958.

The seminar will be devoted to the "Basic Causes of Traffic Accidents," and a year of editorial activity designed to "Save 100 Lives in Illinois in 1958."

In proclaiming Safety Seminar Day, Gov. Stratton and the mayors "urge every reader to hereafter pay the utmost heed to statements printed for their safety while using the streets and highways of the State of Illinois."

A sponsoring committee of 11 editors and publishers, working thru Seminar Secretary James E. Bulger, vice-president of the Chicago Motor Club, has arranged a program for Jan. 10 which includes many of the nation's best known safety leaders.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, will speak at the luncheon. Others on the program will be Pyke Johnson, consultant for the Automotive Safety Foundation; Prof. Amos E. Neyhart "the father of driver education"; Dr. James Stanard Baker, leader in research of accident causes; Richard Braisted, field director of the Cornell Medical school crash program; T. T. Wiley, New York City's traffic commissioner; Chicago's Municipal Court Chief Justice Raymond P. Drymalski; Illinois Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter; John W. Gibbons, Automotive Safety Foundation, who will tell the editors how to "secure public support"; J. J. Cavanagh, president of the Chicago Motor club; and Matthew C. Sielski, senior vice-president of the Institute of Traffic Engineers, the Club's director of safety and traffic engineering.

Aiding in the program will be 21 panelists. They will be state officials, university engineering professors, American Automobile Association traffic engineers, public relations men, and representatives of women drivers, truck drivers and the larger automobile manufacturers.

The Chicago Motor Club will be host on Jan. 10 at the luncheon meeting and banquet. The same day the Club and a department store, in Peoria, will be hosts at a special fashion show luncheon for the women. Prior to the banquet a hospitality hour will be held.

Reservations for each is suggested; accommodations should be made with the Pere Marquette hotel by those staying overnight.

There is no known cure for Dutch Elm disease. Many chemicals are being studied and possibly some day a cure may be found. The Illinois Natural History survey is making intensive study of this disease.

A preventative program is outlined in a brochure entitled "Guide for Community Wide Control of Dutch Elm Disease." It is available for a slight fee from Noel B. Wysong, 536 W. Harlem Ave., River Forest, Ill.

Sanitary Dist. Has "Pay as You Learn" Plan

(CNS)—High school seniors going into the engineering field are being wooed again by the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago with its "pay and work as you learn" program.

For those who qualify, the district underwrites the first semester's tuition at Illinois Institute of Technology. Jobs at the district pay students more than enough to cover tuition for four years of college.

"This is a terrific opportunity for high school graduates," beams Francis T. Delaney, district trustee and enthusiastic pitchman for the engineering training program.

"With us, the student presents no financial drag on his family and when he finishes he'll know how to get dirty on the job and have a lot of experience under his belt—experience that'll enable him to demand a higher salary for he'll be more useful to his next boss."

The district also guarantees its sponsored students a job upon graduation.

"These boys still have the God given right to go where they please when they graduate, but, of course, we hope they stay with us," says Delaney. "By the time they graduate, they'll know what this engineering work is all about, not just from books but also from doing the actual work."

How It Works

Here's how the program works after a student is accepted by both the district and IIT. Summer jobs in the engineering field with the sanitary district at $300 a month are given the student.

During the school year, the student may also be sent by the college to work with the district, either on the drawing boards or on the scene with its professional engineers in the construction tunnels, treatment plants, and anyplace district engineers are found.

How much time other than summer vacation a student can spend with the district is governed by IIT.

"It all depends on what they feel the student needs as to when and how long he's with us during the school year," Delaney explains.

The student also is paid $300 a month for this work.

At no time is the student burning the candle at both ends.

When he's in class at IIT, he is not working at the district and vice versa. Under the program, the engineering student will work with the district anywhere from six to 12 months other than summer periods, which means he'll graduate in 4½ to 5 years instead of the usual four.

No Handout Program

This isn't a handout program for any engineering student stopping by, however, as evidenced by the fact that of 120 applicants since the program started in 1956, only 15 now are in college training.

The district rejected 37 on application while IIT turned down 61 either after interviews or entrance tests. Of 22 accepted, six flunked out in 1956 and only 1 failed in 1957, leaving 15 students still in the program.

Two are in their junior year, nine are sophomores, and four freshman. Not all are in the same field of engineering. Eight are students in mechanical engineering, five civil, one electrical and one structural.

Technical training in high school isn't necessary for acceptance, altho it doesn't hurt to have it, says Delaney.

Details for application are available from John J. Hogan, superintendent, of employment at district headquarters, 100 E. Erie, Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kohl entertained at dinner in their home Christmas. The family gathering included Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Munson and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Munson, of Tinley Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seal and daughter spent the Christmas holidays with their son, Sfc. William Seal and his wife and sons at West Point, N.Y., leaving here December 20. It was the first Christmas spent together in ten years. They came home via the Niagara Falls and Canada. Good weather was enjoyed on the entire trip.

The Friendly Circle of St. John's church will meet on Jan. 9, at 8 p.m. The program will be in charge of Marjorie Lawerle, June Kropp, and Vera Richardson. Refreshments will be served by Marjorie Lawerle, Lois Stein, June Kropp, Vera Richardson, Lois Gerrie, and Mrs. Riemann. On Sunday, Jan. 19, at 7 p.m. there will be a pot luck at the church for all members and their husbands.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kropp for Christmas dinner were the Art Kreis family, of Joliet; Mrs. Herta Parkard, Mrs. Elberta Davis and son, and Carl Brenner, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Kropp and family, of Lockport, and Mr. and Mrs. Sollie Lurcero, of Homewood.

David Kropp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kropp, is home on leave from Fort Belvoir, Va., where he is stationed. He expects to return to base Jan. 8, where he is the chaplain's assistant, but in the meanwhile

Chicago Group Proposes Garfield Park As Site For College Campus

Another site for the future home of the proposed Chicago under-graduate campus of the University of Illinois, has been suggested by civic leaders and business men on the west side of Chicago.

The site of Garfield park has been submitted to the University trustees, to keep the proposed branch of the University in Chicago, and prevent its location in the suburbs.

The proposal that the Chicago park district approve use of all 187.7 acres of Garfield park as a site for the University was recently presented.

The University considers 150 acres of vacant land an absolute minimum toward selection of a site.

The Garfield Park-Austin Community council had previously proposed a 106 acre site bordering the west edge of Garfield park and including ten acres of park land.

At a recent meeting, the group learned the University trustees favored an additional 150 acres for future expansion of the undergraduate branch school.

Consider Seven Sites

Seven other proposed sites for the campus are actively being considered by the trustees. They are Miller Meadows near Maywood; Riverview Park, Gage park, the lake front at Roosevelt rd., the Central Loop area; north of the medical center, and a site at 183rd and the Illinois Central railroad tracks.

University trustee Wayne Johnston, meeting with the group, advised the site for the campus must be selected within the next few months in order for the state legislature to approve the land purchase at its next session. The absolute dead line when the branch at Navy Pier must move into a complete school is 1962, it was stated, necessitating starting to build the campus by 1959 or 1960 at the latest.

Desirable campus factors listed by Johnston included location to majority of future students; housing quarters for faculty, nearby, and transportation.

A short time ago University trustees visited sites in the southwest suburban area, proposed by the Regional Association of South Cook-Will County municipalities.

Farmer Got Tax-Forms Early

The 1957 income tax forms, are here. They are now available for general distribution at all Internal Revenue offices, according to H. Alan Long, district director of internal revenue.

Taxpayers who filed returns last year will get their tax blank and instruction material thru the mail.

Farmers will receive tax packages during the last week of this month and early in Jan. The package for farmers will include an instruction booklet, Forms 1040 and 1040ES, Schedules F and D.

Available to farmers again this year is the "Farmers' Tax Guide," which may be obtained within a short time, free of charge, from Internal Revenue branch offices and from county agents. As in the past year, the 64-page booklet incorporates many features of interest to the farmers and will include this year, interpretations of several new rulings regarding farm tax problems.

And finally, the farmer has a choice of filing. He may file an estimate on Jan. 15 and pay

Name Winners In Fire Prevention Week Contest

(CNS)—Harvey was the winner in the 15,000 to 30,000 population class in the 14th annual metropolitan Chicago fire prevention week contest sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry.

Steger and Markham tied for first place in the 4,000 to 8,000 division and Worth and Palos Heights tied for top honors in the class for towns under 4,000.

Lemont and Bedford Park were among those receiving honorable mentions.

The contest was open to municipalities throughout the six counties in the Chicago area. Winners were selected on the basis of a scrapbook and a written report of their fire prevention work during the year.

"In recent years," said Dick P. Skaer, contest chairman, "there has been growing awareness among citizens that fire prevention is a year-round job if we are to check the billion dollar annual waste in property, and the national loss of more than 11,000 lives caused by fire hazards and carelessness."

"High-lighting these year-round efforts, fire prevention week serves to focus concentrated attention on educational and promotional campaigns aimed at minimizing the loss."

Experts to Delve Into Whyfores of Highway Crashes

One hour of listening during the Friday morning session of the Illinois Editor and Publisher Highway Traffic Safety Seminar, Pere Marquette hotel, Peoria, Jan. 10, will provide editors with more information on the hows and whys of highway accidents than they could get from weeks of reading.

During that hour, Dr. James Stannard Baker, director of research and development for the Traffic Institute, Northwestern University, will discuss "Theories of Accident Causation," and Richard Braisted, of the Automotive Crash Injury Research project, Cornell University medical college, will outline, "Your Chances for Survival."

Baker, who recently received a $350,000 grant to continue the study of the causes of traffic accidents, joined the Institute staff in 1946 after serving one year as safety director of the Detroit Steel Railways. Previously, for 18 years, he had been associated with the National Safety Council in Chicago, where he pioneered in various studies.

During the last four years with Cornell's Automotive Crash Injury Research project, Braisted has been instrumental in establishing crash injury programs in most of the 16 states now participating in the effort to reduce injury through improved automotive design.

We are spending approximately $800 million a year for flowers and seeds as more and more Americans go in for gardening.

at least two-thirds of his tax, then complete payment and file the final return 1040 by April 15. Or, he may file his final return 1040 and pay the total tax due on Feb. 15.

Ignorance Key To Control Of Russian People

Many people believe that Soviet communism will start to collapse when and if the Russian people are able to learn what actually goes on outside the Iron Curtain, and how other peoples live and work and play. This is essentially the idea behind the Voice of America broadcasts and other such efforts. Credence is lent to it by the undeniable fact that the Russian government goes to extraordinary lengths to keep the doors shut against the western world—and to keep their own masses in virtually total ignorance of conditions elsewhere.

Now an interesting sidelight on this is provided by John Gunther, in an article appearing in the December issue of The Reader's Digest. The article is called "Inside Moscow" and is part of a forthcoming book, "Inside Russia Today." Moscow is a great capital of some 7 million population. Yet, Mr. Gunther writes: "No local citizen has ever read a gossip column or played canasta. No one has even seen a supermarket, a drive-in movie, a motel or a golf course. Nobody has ever shopped by mail or paid a bill by check. No one has ever seen an electric toaster, a sidewalk cafe, a shoeshine stand or a funeral home. . . ."

Life is Dreary

In other words, the life of most Russian citizens "is inexpressibly dreary." The regime sees to that, as a matter of high policy. Yet, Mr. Gunther found, "the Russians are a terrific, a tremendous, a magnificent people." They have many characteristics in common with Americans—humor, gregariousness, curiosity, an aptitude for technical skills. During his whole trip he "never saw an unfriendly face."

He also reports that the people grumble openly—that is allowed, so long as it doesn't extend to political matters. They grumble about the terrific housing shortage—often young people can't marry for want of a place to live. They grumble about the poor quality of consumer goods, of building construction and maintenance, and all manner of other things. The streets are always crowded in Moscow, even on bitter winter nights, because "homes are so unbelievably crowded, uncomfortable and squalid."

It is symbolic of life in Russia that when the famous Bolshoi Ballet went to London last year, its members wanted to buy two things above all—knitting needles and porcelain for false teeth. Neither were available. Stainless steel is used for the teeth.

In conclusion, Mr. Gunther says this: "This is a country where nobody puts his neck out, run by a regime without a heart. . . . Dressed in their drabness, huddled in their tenements and filled with boredom, the Russian people must be kept from knowing what goes on in the outer world. If they ever found out, it would be the beginning of the end of a regime that has forced them to suffer in silence for 40 interminable years."

More than 50 per cent of the 1400 victims stricken with polio in the epidemic of 1956 in Cook county were under five years of age. With the help of March of Dimes contributions, these children will be aided thruout their growing years.

During 1957, the Cook County chapter spent more than $150,000 in the purchase and promotion of Salk vaccine for use thruout the county. Be sure you have your three Salk shots!

Substation Near Orland, Nuclear Station Increases Edison System

The greatest single-year capacity boost in the history of the Commonwealth Edison Company, is the installation of three new generating units, totaling 815,000 kilowatts of net capability which are scheduled to be placed in service in 1958. These will be installed in Waukegan and Chicago.

Other additions that will increase Edison system net capability to 5,608,000 kilowatts by the end of 1961 include two more 305,000-kilowatt units and the 180,000 kilowatt Dresden Nuclear Power Station.

Scheduled for completion in 1960, the atomic power plant is now under construction on the Illinois waterway 50 miles southwest of Chicago. It is being built by General Electric Company for a contract price of $45,000,000. The station will have the country's largest nuclear power reactor.

Another project bearing on Edison's future capacity is a 345,000-volt tie line which will connect the utility with American Gas and Electric system. The 90-mile transmission line will run from a new substation now being built near Orland Park, to New Carlisle, Ind. When completed next spring, the high capacity tie-line will initially be worth about 200,000 kilowatts of generating reserve to each of the systems. In addition it will be able to handle the transfer of large amounts of power for emergency, maintenance and economy purposes.

To Spend $600 Million

Under its projected construction program, which is subject to revision to meet changing conditions, Commonwealth now estimates it will spend $600,000,000 on property additions during the next four years.

The estimated outlays for future construction will raise Edison's total expenditures for 16 postwar years, 1946-1961, to more than 1.8 billion dollars.

Customers served by Edison, including its Public Service company division, numbered about 1,937,000 at the end of 1957, approximately 40,000 more than the previous year. Average residential use of electricity was up from 2,522 kilowatt-hours in 1956 to about 2,680 in 1957.

The company's sales in 1957 are estimated at approximately 19 1/4-billion kilowatt-hours compared to 18,698,000,000 in 1956.

Sales to the three major classes of customers showed increases over 1956. Residential and commercial customers about 9 per cent more, while industrial sales were up about 3 per cent. However, total kilowatt-hour sales were only about 3 per cent higher, mainly because of reduced sales to other electric utilities which have increased their own generating capacities.

The New Year Can Be Start Of New Life

By CECILIA DESMOND
Paulist Feature Service)

On New Year's day, we begin a new life. The slate is wiped clean and we look forward to a happy, productive year. But unfortunately, some of us will aim in the wrong direction and so miss the mark.

Take Joe for instance. To him, New Year's day means time off from work to recover from the revelry of New Year's Eve. He moans and groans about his terrific hangover, resenting the price demanded for a night of drunkenness.

He's looking forward to '58. This will be a great year for him. He plans to earn more money, pull some quick, slick deals (hidden from his conscience under the guise of smart business), increase his prestige and better his security.

But Joe, earthly possessions do not bring real security! If you pursued heavenly treasures with the same zeal and ambition you employ in the pursuit of money, you would be a very rich man some day and enjoy your wealth forever. As it is now, you run the risk of being permanently "hung-over" when the time comes to begin that New Life that never ends.

Poor Sam doesn't give a darn about the holiday. What's a new year to him? Just another year of work and worry. Everything is a year older, including himself. His future stretches forth, a monotonous continuation of a very drab past. He grimly marches on, wondering, "What's the use? What's there to look forward to?"

Come now, Sam, cheer up! things aren't so bad. Look at the saints. They set their sights on heaven and regard time as a glorious opportunity to serve God. Like them, you could learn to bear your burden with joy and blessed hope. Carry your cross with the Saviour and one day Christ Himself will lift the heavy load from your shoulders and escort you into a land of eternal rest, joy and peace.

Unlike Sam, Bill woke up bright and cheerful this morning. He has decided to change his ways and become a better man in '58. Smiling at his long list of resolutions, he starts to put every one into effect immediately.

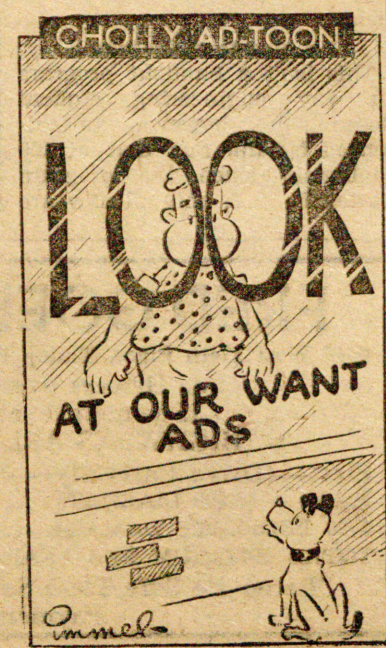

Many of us, like Bill, have also written out a nice long list of resolutions. We're all fired up and determined to do better. But being creatures of habit, we soon slip back into the same old rut.

Why? Perhaps it's because we make and try to keep too many resolutions. Let's be different and practical this year. Instead of making and breaking a 1,000 resolutions, why not sum them into ONE and adopt it as our code of life? To put it in words, we might paraphrase an epistle of Saint Paul.

"I will deny ungodliness and worldly desires, I will live soberly, and justly, and godly in this world."

The Great Saint Paul directs us to the right road. If we follow it, this New Year will be a happy one, one that will be profitable both for time and eternity.

Double feature: "Every Girl Should Be Married" and "Man-handled."

WHAT IS COMING?

Visiting with friends in the city, I find myself describing our community life out here, and I marvel at the things I hear myself saying. Can this life really be true in the 20th Century?

My friends sit in amazement and listen to my stories of our isolation and our pioneer struggles to maintain civilized and cooperative living conditions. As we talk, we hear below, through the second-story windows, sounds of city traffic, regulated and ordered. Chimes and bells of nearby churches and clocks ring out during the evening. Neighbors walk past the apartment hall and up and down apartment stairs as we talk. The sky outside the window is lighted by red, yellow, and white neon signs a block away.

Stories in such surroundings about acquiring even one store or attracting even one medical doctor seem impossibly out-dated. Discussions of world-wide political problems can each be matched by a story of my own about living people I have met out here and actual physical planning for law and order, where all was, and is, doubt. Stories of heroic leaders who maintain morale in Hungary, and organize parliaments in Africa suddenly seem very close to me as we discuss them this year. Pros and cons about American congressional action leap into projected questions on what our little community will be enforcing and promoting this time next year.

How do you feel about this? Have you also sensed that Americans have turned themselves backward a hundred years and are once again testing for themselves local democratic government? Have you realized we are privileged to study and practice our government's teachings here and now? We are privileged to gather for public discussion, take our own public votes on plans for our community, pledge our own contributions for common goods and select and support our own leaders as we chose.

We have left behind the study of American history and are now privileged to be making it. May God give us the courage we shall all need to face the year ahead—and while we're at it, let's pray for honor and good-will also.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

No word yet. Any day now!

Thursday, Jan. 16
PTA OPEN MEETING

Pamphlets and letters will be mailed to all parents of school district 160 before this meeting. All citizens of area are warmly invited to attend this meeting in the main school at 184th and Central. (You need not have children in the school to work for the betterment of educational facilities with the PTA.) Call Don Swanson. KE 2-4873.

SAFER NOW

Highway Safety signs have been donated to our Citizens committee by the Harvey Lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose. Your Citizen's committee is now making plans to install them at: 175th and Cicero (for south-bound traffic), 183rd and Central (for eastbound traffic), 183rd and Crawford (for west-bound traffic), and Flossmoor Road and Cicero (for north-bound traffic.)

These signs differ from the regular yellow and black high way signs. Moose Safety Signs are white and black with lettering reading "Protect Our Children." A Moose emblem of red and gold appears in the center.

Something different, to alert these wild motorists whizzing so recklessly past our village's busiest intersection.

CALLING THE SCHOOL?

Upper grades, which meet in the temporary buildings at 179th and Thomas here in the middle of unit 2, can be reached by calling this number: SY 9-5699.

Andrew Tobin, our hard working school principal, must divide his time between the main school, at 184th and Central, and these three buildings. He often can be reached at this number as he spends hours meeting with the upper classes.

If you have older children in these upper grades, why don't you give them a call and offer to spend a lunch hour in the building to relieve the poor teachers once a week? Several children come long distances and must be chaperoned while they eat their lunches. It seems wrong to ask teachers to babysit and have no time for rest and planning. They would appreciate a personal call to them, with offers of service and friendship.

A Letter From CUB PACK 286

At the pack meeting Dec. 23 the pack received its charter for a year. John Danforth of the organization and extension committee of our council presented the charter to Carl Timmerman, institutional representative who in turn presented it to Wm. Marquardsen, president of our sponsoring institution, the Citizens committee. Mr. Danforth presented the registration cards to the den mothers and committee members.

Mr. Timmerman presented Mr. Danforth with a gift in appreciation for his work in organizing the pack.

Fourteen boys were given their bob cat pins in a ceremony given by Mr. Bill Watkins, new Cubmaster, and assisted by Mr. Van Horn.

A note of thanks for their artistry, carpentry, material and work that went into building a combination flag holder and center display showing all Cub insignias.

The den mothers were presented with their respective den flags and new boys were assigned to dens.

It was announced that the citizens committee will purchase our pack flag for us. This flag is in the process of being lettered and should be ready for our next pack meeting. Christmas carols were sung by the boys and Santa arrived with goodies for all.

Another note of thanks to Santa who stepped in at the very last minute and did a wonderful job. It was greatly appreciated Mr. Santa.

The cubs were shown cartoons while the parents had a business meeting and coffee session. It was announced that any parents interested in cubbing for their boy should contact Mr. Senecal at KElogg 2-3831.

The next pack committee meeting will be held Jan. 2 in the home of Mrs. Millie Berdan. We are looking forward to a good year in scouting and wish you all a healthy, happy new year.

A SAD HOLIDAY

Arlene Verthein, of 18020 So. John ave., became ill the week before Christmas and had to go to a hospital for extended treatment. This left at home her five young children, four boys and one girl, for her husband to cheer through the holidays. Mr. Verthein's sister has been staying with the family during her vacation from college but she is returning this week-end to her studies.

Since Mr. Verthein is a registered pharmacist, he works irregular hours and his greatest problem is, of course, finding capable people to care for his young children. Do you know somebody who might help him? Or can you offer any other form of help to them? If so, call him at SY 8-9326.

The holidays are surely hectic for all us young families who prepare such elaborate meals and surprises for our children during this brightest time of their year. But think of the holidays with no mother at home. It makes our cozy plans seem simple and easy as pie. Can you help him?

NAYBER FROM TEXAS

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson are moving in any day now at 185th and John, south of 183rd, in the brand new unit 3. They have come from Dallas, Texas. What must they be thinking of our climate? Mrs. Pearson is a sixth grade teacher for Park Forest and has been commuting these three months from Hammond. But since she has three children of her own, she, too, surrendered to the livable design of our model house and made plans very quickly to join us.

Welcome, neighbor. I hope you will be as happy out here as we have been.

Any news? Call me at SY 8-5669. Or drop a note in my mailbox at 17925 John (the Redwood house). Til next week then MAY YOU FARE WELL.

Whooping Crane Is Largest Of Wading Birds

By ROBERT MANN
(Conservation Editor Cook Co.
Forest Preserve)

Few people in Chicagoland have ever seen a crane, unless it was an African or Asiatic kind exhibited in a zoo. Sandhill cranes, if they ever pass over here on their migrations, always fly at a great height. Whooping cranes, the only other American species, are perilously near extinction. The long-legged long-necked wading birds that frequent sloughs and marshes in our forest preserves are herons and egrets.

Cranes are very tall, shun civilization, and belong to a different bird family. They fly with their necks stretched out; herons fly with their heads drawn back, near the shoulders. Cranes nest in marshes where they build low mounds of aquatic vegetation, and their young are not only clothed with down when hatched but, in a few hours, are running nimbly after the mother. Herons and egrets nest in trees or thickets and their young are born naked and helpless.

Cranes have two remarkable characteristics. One is the wind pipe which, as the bird matures, becomes elongated until the total length is about five feet, with 30 inches or more of it coiled in the keel of the breastbone. That is probably responsible for the great volume and resonance of their weird cries which may be heard for miles. They are also famous for spectacular courtship dances in which the male and female solemnly bow to each other, then leap into the air with waving wings, arched necks, and bills pointing skyward. They do this repeatedly until, as suddenly as it began, the dance is over.

Stands Tall

The Whooping Crane, largest of our wading birds, is almost as tall as a man—length, 49 to 56 inches; wingspread, 76 to 92 inches. Its adult plumage is pure white except for the jet black wing tips. Across each cheek, below the fierce yellow eye, is a heavy black "mustache" of bristle-like feathers. Otherwise the cheeks, forehead and crown are bare, with ear-mine red skin. The heavy spear shaped bill is olive green. The long legs and huge feet are black.

Whooping cranes were fairly numerous 150 years ago when they nested as far south as the great marshes in Cook county and northern Indiana. Today only about 30 survive, including a captive pair in the New Orleans zoo where, this year, they succeeded in raising a pair of youngsters. Most of them winter in the Arkansas Wildlife Refuge, an area of salt marshes and mud flats on the Gulf coast of Texas. In 1955, after years of search, their summer nesting grounds were discovered in Wood Buffalo National Park, south of Great Slave Lake in northern Canada.

The Sandhill Crane is somewhat smaller—length, 40 to 48 inches; wing spread about 80 inches. The adults, except for the reddish bare skin on their heads, and black legs and feet, are uniformly slaty-gray. Its voice is a deep rolling croak or vibrant honk. Unlike the Whooper, which subsists largely on aquatic animals and aquatic roots and bulbs—in freshwater or saltwater marshes—the sandhill crane spends much of its time and gets most of its food on dry land: some frogs, snakes, mice and insects but more roots, bulbs and grain. They love corn. Consequently, these big birds are good eating and have been hunted so persistently that they have become very wary and have disappeared from vast areas of grassland when once numerous.

Except for a strain that nests in Florida and Louisiana, they breed from Alaska and northern Canada south to California, Nebraska, and even southern Michigan where a small colony nests in the Waterloo Recreational Area Refuge.

In the 1840's, large flocks of them were common in Cook county.

$216,000 Building In Park Forest Will Have Civil Defense Center

Park Forest organizations are cooperating to erect a $216,000 building which will incorporate an underground civil defense center, a gymnasium, and recreation center.

The civil defense portion of the proposed structure is estimated at $120,000 and may be financed by matching federal funds if plans are approved by the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

The remainder of the cost will be paid from a $150,000 bond issue already approved for a village recreation building.

School district 163 has agreed to donate the land for the building in return for the use of the above ground facilities during school hours.

Village authorities state the civil defense center will be used as headquarters for the local corps and as a training center and to incorporate all of the village's scattered civil defense organizations at a central point.

It is also planned to equip the civil defense area for use as an emergency control center for the Chicago area should others be destroyed.

In the event of an emergency it could be used to set up hospital facilities.

The center will be windowless and connect by a concrete tunnel with the basement of a nearby school.

A gymnasium and recreation center will occupy the upper story, to be used by the school during the day and in the evenings by the village recreation department.

In addition the building will also house several meeting and general purpose rooms, showers and locker rooms, and a kitchen.

S. W. Suburban Towns Complain Of Bus Service

(CNS)—"The progress made by Bluebird Coach Lines would indicate it is desirable of management to follow suggestions I have made up to this time," Illinois Commerce Commission engineer Merrill Knox said Tuesday.

The testimony by Knox was taken at the eighth ICC hearing on complaints against the line by 13 Southwest suburban towns which charge the company with inadequate and inefficient bus service.

Knox said Bluebird is progressing in its plan to adopt a more realistic schedule with allowances for seasons of the year and the time of day. Knox added the garage schedule for maintenance of the buses was also improving favorably.

ICC examiner Harold Poslusny said he will file a report with members of the commission within the next 30 days, listing recommendations for improvement of service made by Knox.

At a previous hearing Knox recommended that Bluebird gradually replace its fleet of 37 buses over the next 10 years starting with two new 51 passenger buses next year and three or more new vehicles each year thereafter.

He also urged that the lines issue tokens for inter-city buses and equalize the rates between common points on local and inter-city runs.

Frank McCreary, operating head and manager of the bus line said he is ready to institute these recommendations as soon as the ICC issued its order.

The communities that complained about the bus service are: Joliet, Lockport, Lemont, Willow Springs, Justice, Bridgeview, Bedford Park, Summit, Hickory Hills, Romeville, McCook, Stickney, and Lyons.

Knox said he would continue since he had been elected to fill the unexpired term of Sheriff Overbay. It marked the first time that Sheriff Doerfler had sought public office.

In each election in which he participated he received the largest number of votes of any candidate ever to seek a county office.

During his tenure as sheriff, Doerfler completely revised the antiquated filing system and made other improvements to add to the efficient operation of the county police office.

He is an associate member of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and is recognized as one of the outstanding law enforcement officers in the state.

Altho Sheriff Doerfler has but 15 deputies to police the entire county, there has been comparatively little crime in the rural areas.

In announcing his candidacy, Doerfler declared:

"I believe that I can give the taxpayers of Will county the same efficient administration in the county treasurer's office as I did in the sheriff's office. My job there will be to collect tax monies, safeguard it and finally distribute it to the various taxing bodies. I would appreciate the same public confidence and trust that I had as your sheriff.

"With my small staff, I have been successful in keeping gambling, vice and crime at a minimum, a promise I made the people of Will county when I assumed the duties of sheriff. As your county treasurer I will safeguard public monies in the same efficient manner."

Sheriff Doerfler resides with his wife, Mabel, and daughter, Kay, a Junior college student, at 14 N. Chicago st., Joliet. He also has a married son, Roy, Jr., who is an electrician.

According to Senator Byrd, the U.S. Government's civilian payroll for fiscal 1957 has reached a record $11 billion-plus. The number of employees on the federal rolls is now 2,394,000, a gain of 30,000 over 1956.

Chicago Heights Man Sentenced, Fined For Income Tax Evasion

(CNS)—A Chicago Heights concrete products manufacturer was fined $5,000 and sentenced to four months in federal prison Thursday for income tax evasion. He is Benjamin G. Lange, 66 years old, president of Pre-Cast Concrete Products of Illinois and of Concrete Joist and Products, Inc., 540 East 16th st., Chicago Heights. He lives at Lake Dalecarlia, Ind.

U. S. District Judge Win G. Knech, in imposing sentence, said it "gave the benefit of every doubt" to the white-haired defendant.

"Apparently this was going on for a number of years and it's rather hard to explain," Judge Knech said. "I can conceive a man can make a wrong schedule for one year when he finds himself in a difficult situation, but the picture changes from year to year. He has an excellent background except for this violation and the court must take that into account."

He granted Lange a stay of mittimus to Jan. 10 so he would not have to spend Christmas in jail.

Lange was originally charged with evading $51,493 in personal and corporate taxes for 1951 and 1952, on unreported income of $101,321, while paying only $19,964 on a reported income of $59,611.

He pleaded guilty to three of the five counts, covering the personal tax for both years totaling $37,322 evaded on an unreported income of $60,373, while he paid $6,242 on a reported $22,454. The fifth count was for Pre-Cast tax of $6,768 on unreported $22,561. The government dismissed the other two corporate counts.

"Doom and Gloom" Reflections Unfounded Says Business Editor

Og, the ingenious and charming little leprechaun of "Finian's Rainbow," was funny even when he talked of "doom and gloom". But it was enjoyable too to tap one's feet to the "Great Come and Get It Day."

It's time for another laugh at Og.

He has serious competition. The prophets, devotees, and unwitting spokesmen for "doom and gloom" have not been so active in many a year. They have emerged from their nests and found a stage from which to recite their lines.

For some time now it has looked as though they would have an upper hand, and that those observers who argued that the United States economy can be as prosperous as its people, its businesses and its government want it to be, would be drowned out. Some welcome recruits for the Prosperity Chorus have, however, arrived.

But first about Og. Several plane-loads of Ogs arrived in New York last week. Each was a "key" businessman.

The deluge of negative talk flooded hotel corridors for three days. When one could pin a businessman down about his "doom and gloom" it was found that he was really in distress because the "Great Come and Get It Day" had passed. It was readily admitted, that the man "who couldn't make a buck" the past nine years didn't deserve to.

Several "keys"—a machine tool executive, a paper company president, an office supplies top executive, the chief of a company manufacturing luxury products—sang Og's sad little lament, "Doom and gloom doom and gloom."

Finally, an industry chieftain caught the picture and laughed. "You know, it really is funny. Here we are just grieving crocodile tears about the second best business year in our history." The others all agreed. "We've had it so good for so long that any little change makes us think we are hurt," said another.

Few of the United States' top business executives today have ever experienced anything but boom in the national economy. They have built their businesses, their market positions, their own careers when it was the easiest time in which to do it.

Customers were not hard to please. They put up with faulty service. They accepted faulty products. They had plenty of money and plenty of credit and they were willing to spend it.

Today's crop of business leaders were in college or had just graduated into business when the Deep Depression of the '30's occurred. They went to war shortly after or engaged in defense production. Their business prime has occurred in the past nine years.

Like eager children in an exciting, burgeoning blueberry patch, they couldn't pick the luscious fruit fast enough. They sometimes smeared their faces in their hunger to devour the abundance all around. They left hundreds of berries on the bushes in their haste to take the biggest and easiest.

It was the "Great Come and Get It Day."

Now, these young "key" business executives are face to face with the challenge that they must show their basic mettle as business executives. A large number of them have got off on the right foot by examining their own attitudes. A few have certainly gotten off on the wrong foot by taking to the public platform to proclaim and publicize a recession which had not developed.

Once this group gets over its initial surprise over the "new" problem, the country's business will be found to be in good shape. Even now, the Credit executive, business executives, business editors, leaders in steel expect 1958 to resemble 1957 and show a general gain.

The big risk in a period such as this is that business executives would use a slow-down theme as an alibi to cover up their own inadequacies, thus necessitating an even further, later adjustment for them.

Businessmen know that a company is as good as its management, and that many individual companies are chalking up fine records while others are failing. If a company is in trouble, the rule is, any management expert will tell you, "Look at the management. What is its attitude?"

The problem is basic. Down-turns or upturns in sales are only surface signs. Real progress must first be recorded in business attitudes.

We certainly have no crisis on our hands today. We have a full-blown economy with prosperity and opportunity on every side. Attitude plus management can meet any challenge.

(From the Dec. 14, 1957 issue of the Christian Science Monitor).

Sales of imported automobiles—most of them small economy types—have been rising steadily and swiftly in this country. This causes National Review to speculate: "Maybe, instead of building the Edsel, the Ford Company should have revived the flivver."

About 50 million Americans—owners, employees and their families—depend upon small business for their livelihood.

300,000 Auto Owners Retain Same Numbers

More than 300,000 Illinois motorists took advantage of the state's re-assignment law to retain their 1957 automobile license numbers for 1958, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier said today.

The law requires the secretary of state to re-assign the current year's number for the next year when the applicant applies before October 31 and requests that the number be assigned to him again.

For the one, two, three and four digit numbers, re-assignment runs as high as 98 percent, meaning that only about 250 numbers from 1 to 10,000 become available for assignment to persons other than those holding them currently, Secretary Carpentier said.

Special Combinations Too

For those 250 numbers, more than 2,500 requests were received this year, Carpentier said. Consequently, he pointed out, less than one out of ten requests for one, two, three, and four digit numbers could be filled.

Total requests for special assignment of numbers of all varieties—including low ones, high ones, numbers incorporating addresses, telephone numbers, birthdates, wedding dates, poker combinations, numbers ending in three zeros, repeats (531-531), reverses (531-135) and all others—amounted to about 300,000, Carpentier said.

Beyond 10,000, re-assignment still accounts for about 95 percent of the lower five-digit numbers and drops to about 85 percent for the higher ones, Mr. Carpentier said.

When six-digit numbers are reached the re-assignment percentage drops to about 70 for the first 100,000 and drops sharply to 30 percent by the time 200,000 is reached, Secretary Carpentier said.

Get Permits to Extend Sewers

(CNS)—South Holland, Oak Lawn, and Merrionette Park have received permits from the Metropolitan Sanitary District to extend their sewer system to new subdivision.

South Holland will extend its sewer system in South Park ave., at 166th street with an indirect connection to the sanitary district's Calumet interceptor.

Oak Lawn received permits for two projects. One is for an extension of the village sanitary sewer system in Mansfield ave. from 97th st., to 98th st. with a direct connection to the district's Calumet interceptor network.

The other allows extension of the village sanitary sewer system to serve Jolly Homes fourth addition with an indirect connection to the Calumet interceptor.

Merrionette Park's permit is for extending the village sanitary sewer system in Central Park ave. at 117th street to serve lots 1, 2, and 3 in Dyke Bros. subdivision, with a direct connection to the Mt. Greenwood outfall.

Pack Meeting

Cub Scout Pack 8 met Thursday night, Dec. 26, in the Lions den. The meeting opened with Den 5 leading the pledge to the flag. The cake was awarded to Mrs. George Kennedy.

Plans for the annual Cub Scout anniversary dinner were discussed, with Mrs. Roy Fitzer volunteering as chairman.

Den 10 gave a guessing game demonstration, and Den 4 gave an impressive skit of the celebration of Christmas in other countries, especially with the breaking of the Piniata in Mexico.

Walter Gougar received his Wolf badge, and Arrow points were presented to Howard Grimes.

Mrs. Leonard Warning presided at the piano for the singing of Christmas carols. To usher out the old year, and welcome in the new year, they all sang "Auld Lang Syne."

Den 7 closed the meeting with the Cub Scout promise, and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schroeder and daughters have returned from Little Rock, Ark., where they spent the past few days with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woeltji, and son.

Charles Nelson, 128 Hawthorn st., is critically ill in Silver Cross hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Nelson and daughter Sharon of Jacksonville, Fla., are spending the holidays with relatives and friends, in New Lenox and Joliet. Mrs. Nelson will be remembered here as the former Miss Evelyn De-long, who resided here for several years.

Miss Evelyn Rowsell entertained a few friends in her home Thursday night at a Christmas gathering. Refreshments were served.

Boy Scout Party

Members of Boy Scout troop 49 enjoyed their annual Christmas party Thursday night at the Boy Scout cabin in the camp grounds. Robert Buckler, Scoutmaster, and Norman Johnson, were co-chairman in charge of the party for the boys. Games were played, grab bag gift exchanged and refreshment served.

Classes to Resume

Classes in St. Jude school, Oakview and Haven public schools, will resume on Thursday, Jan. 2, following a ten-day holiday vacation. Lincoln-Way will resume their studies Monday, Jan. 6, following a two week holiday.

Altar and Rosary Society

Members of the Altar and Rosary society of St. Jude's church had a Christmas dinner in the dining room of the parish hall, Dec. 17 at 6:30 p.m. Christmas carols were sung after the dinner. The group presented gifts to each of the five sisters, teachers at St. Jude's school, and to Father Denis Hall, pastor.

The Holy Name society of St. Jude's Catholic church will meet Tuesday, Jan. 7 in the parish hall, at 8 p.m.

Members of the Hi-teens group of St. Jude's church will meet Jan. 9, at 8 p.m. in the parish hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nowels of Plainfield are the parents of a daughter born Dec. 20 in Silver Cross hospital. Mrs. Nowels is the former Vivien Osmus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Osmus of New Lenox. She and the new baby were welcomed home Christmas eve by their small son Gary.

Elect Officers

Election of officers for 1958, held by the Missionary society at their meeting in the church Thursday, resulted as follows: for president, Mrs. Robert Shepherd, Sr., vice president, Mrs. John Loucks; secretary, Mrs. Guy Bump re-elected, and treasurer, Mrs. Roy Parker re-elected. Report of the year's financial activities was given by Mrs. Parker, showing the society's obligations are paid up to date with a substantial fund to start the new year. New committees will be appointed by the president at the January meeting. Mrs. Roy Hanson joined the society.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dale attended the Christmas service at the Frankfort Methodist church last Sunday evening. Their grandchildren, the William Morrison family, participated in the entertainment. On Christmas day, the Dales were guests in the home of their son Charles, near Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hanson had as Christmas guests, their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Beye of Gary, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Ott, daughter Carol, and son Billy, entertained at a family dinner. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kowalski and the Frank Hartman family of Blue Island, and Mrs. Mary Stitt and Mrs. Caroline Ott of Lockport.

The Lester Erdmans attended a family dinner in Frankfort.

Betty Anderson was an overnight guest of Cheryl Sass on Thursday.

Homer Church Notes

On Sunday, Dec. 28, Rev. and Mrs. Roy Hanson were received into the membership of the church. Mr. John Kiedaisch from Chicago assisted in the reception. On Jan. 5 several new members will be received and the quarterly communion will be observed.

A Watch Night service was held on New Years Eve preceded by refreshments and sociability.

A pleasant evening with the Hanson family was enjoyed by the group of people who braved the weather to attend the Open House at Homer parsonage on Friday evening. All Christmas services were very well attended.

Gift Mums Need Water, Sunshine

Christmas decorations can be stored and forgotten, but holiday gift chrysanthemums need quick attention.

G. M. Fosler, University of Illinois floriculture specialist, says potted mums need plenty of water and light to grow properly. Their large foliage areas demand moisture so that the soil won't dry out quickly. The soil should always be moderately moist but well drained too.

Mums also need plenty of light for several hours each day. A spot near a sunny window just out of direct sunlight is good. Buds that open in a bright light usually have a more normal color than those that open in a darker place.

Keep these plants out of dry, overheated rooms too. Between 72 degrees and 75 degrees F. is a good daytime temperature. About 60 degrees F. is best for night, but they can take temperatures of 50 degrees F.

Hardy garden-type mums can be kept after blooming and planted in the spring when the soil is warm.

speakers will be the Rev. and Mrs. William Boldt of Joliet, where he is pastor of St. John's English Lutheran church. The couple have recently returned from a tour of Mission Fields of their church which included visits to several Japanese towns also Hong Kong, Malaya and India. They will describe their trip. Mrs. Boldt, who was formerly Miss Eleanor Schuler of Lockport, is an instructor at Silver Cross hospital.

Mrs. John Hollister will be the soloist for the day, and Mrs. John White is to be the board member from Homer church in 1958.

Election and installation of officers will be held. A silver tea will complete the day's program

Linda Thompson of Joliet spent several days last week with her grandmother, Mrs. Guy Bump.

Thyra White, who recently has moved to a private home at Kankakee, spent the holidays with relatives here. She and the Robert Jungles were Christmas guests in the Charles Jungles home at New Lenox.

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The end of the year is usually the time when we all take inventory of our progress and attempt to plan for the future on the basis of our successes and failures.

In the investment field as in the field of domestic and international politics, the rapidity of communications has been both a boon and a handicap. Our grandfathers did not have the radio or TV to make them immediately aware of events all over the world and had to rely on careful and watchful judgment on which to base their investment activities. There is quite a large group of writers and commentators who make good incomes interpreting events on the basis of these daily events and unless they are sensationalized, the commentator is likely to find small listener interest and soon applying his talents in some other activity.

Many stock market commentators are frank in stating they do not try to cover a long range investment analysis, but rather the short range swings of the securities markets. Fortune magazine made a five year survey of a group of such commentators and came up with the answer that they are less than fifty per cent right and that flipping a coin would be about as good as following such advice. In stock market parlance, they are trying to "beat the tape" rather than relying on investment analysis for which no substitute has yet been found. Previous generations never had a shadow of the investment aids and analysis available to present day investors. The smallest investor now has Mutual Funds which offer opportunities as to management and selection which formerly was for the wealthy alone. Even the smaller Mutual Funds have research organizations with specialists in various fields, that even the largest commercial banking organizations cannot afford.

The U. S. News and World Report in its Dec. 27, 1957 issue carries a report on the 10 years past and refers to it as a "Decade of Miracles." The article gives an excellent panorama of events from 1947 thru 1957. As contrasted with the more sensational commentators, it points out "The American people are experiencing a slowing down, for a brief period in their country's forward drive. Jobs are less plentiful. Not all machines are fully used. There is little let down from the feverish pace of the past." It is hard to find a serious commentator who refers to this period as anything more than a temporary slowing down of a boom period.

We no longer are awed by important scientific and commercial events which contribute so heavily to our progress. The industrial development and living standard increases are covered well in a book titled "The Big Picture" by David Cort, formerly editor of Life and Time. In proving his point, Mr. Cort compares the number of True Scientific Discoveries from the year 1620 thru 1950. It is clearly shown that the discoveries since 1920 were many times those of all previously recorded history.

Each generation criticizes its predecessor for not having made a fortune with opportunities available. Opportunities are greater than any previously offered in history. It must always be remembered that each year has its world shaking events and their never is a period in which all is clear—except in crystal clear hindsight.

Read 11 Corinthians 4:13-18.
The highway of the upright is to depart from evil. (Proverbs 16:17.)

We have all had the experience of traveling over a highway that was bumpy, crooked, and full of holes. Then later we re-traveled this same highway. But what a difference! The crookedness and roughness were eliminated.

The lives of most of us are comparable to a poor highway. Our lives are in need of change and repair. The more we grow in the Christian faith, the more we become aware of our sinful lives. We then have the desire to rid our lives of sin and make them Christlike.

No highway, no matter how good, will remain in good condition without constant, proper maintenance. This applies to the Christian life also. Regular prayer, Bible reading, and church attendance are all aids in maintaining the Christian life. When we depart from evil, Christ will lead us to a new and living way of life.

PRAYER

Our Father, Thou knowest our sinful, crooked, and rough lives. We ask the guidance of the Holy Spirit in smoothing and straightening them, so that we can carry on the work of Thy kingdom. We ask it in Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

When we depart from evil, we find a new and living way by following Christ.

First Meeting of Presbyterian Men's Study Group Jan. 5

Men of the Presbyterian church of Tinley Park are organizing a study group. Meetings will be held on Sundays at 7:30 p.m., in a room in the manse, 16621 Gaynelle road, the first on Sunday, Jan. 5.

Meetings will be informal. Discussion and study will center around the Christian religion and the Bible, in their relationship to daily tasks.

The children's choir will hold a rehearsal at 10 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 4. This is for all primary and junior boys and girls. The choir will sing in the church on Youth Fellowship Sunday, Jan. 26.

The Presbyterian church held its first Communion service last Sunday. Serving were elders from the Palos Park and Drexel Park Presbyterian churches. They were M. J. Thomas and Robert Lough.

Mrs. Lough presented a Communion service to the church in memory of her mother, Mrs. Margaret McKibbin, grandmother of Mrs. Owen Doyle.

Flowers for the Sanctuary were provided by Mr. and Mrs. C. Olander.

Soloist at last Sunday's service was Mrs. Charles Reidel.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The spiritual basis of true health and holiness will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday, Jan. 5.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" will consist of readings from the King James Version of the Bible and correlative selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science.

Scriptural selections will include the following from Psalms (48:1): "Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the mountain of his holiness."

The following will be read from Science and Health (518:199): "Love giveth to the least spiritual idea might, immortality, and goodness, which shine through all as the blossom shines through the bud. All the varied expressions of God reflect health, holiness, immortality—infinite Life, Truth, and Love."

The 1958 March of Dimes, Jan. 2 thru 31, will mark the 20th anniversary of the founding of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Join the March of Dimes and help stamp out polio forever.
